

Extra Large Dampers

Bulletin 810-L

PRINCIPLES OF DESIGN

Waddell Engineering is able to manufacture large dampers with the same quality and reliability that the smaller dampers offer. These extra large dampers can be built to practically any size required by the application.

Our ability to provide customers with what they need is one reason for our many years in business.

Someone interested in extra large dampers might also want to read about special applications.

ADVANTAGES

- Time proven components
- Inexpensive local control
- Simple understandable set point control
- Very accurate flow control